

Media conglomeration is as big a threat to American freedom of choice and expression as John Ashcroft's Orwellian attack on our civil rights in the name of "homeland security." I urge the FCC to review current law and policy regarding TV/radio station ownership limits and do everything in its power to pull in the reins on rampant conglomeration and the dire results such actions have on our basic freedoms.